The Mead Legacy Plan Collection

At Mead Lumber we have been designing and providing homes and other building projects to builders and prospective home owners since 1910! In fact, many would say it's the essence of what we do, and really who we are. We have put together an exclusive "in-house" collection of homes, cabins, garages, pole buildings, decks and outdoor living offerings for our customers to select from. But even more importantly, we are fully capable today (working with our customer and their builder) of designing homes and related projects exactly the way they want it, to the specifications that work for them, integrating the products they select that best fit their budget and lifestyle. Whether a customer wants to start with one of our plans or has an idea that they've scratched on a napkin, we are prepared to help.
